PARENTS PROTEST CHILDREN'S CENTRE CLOSURES

By Alexander Ballinger
alexb@oxfordnewspapers.co.uk

OXFORDSHIRE parents showed up in force outside County Hall on Tuesday to fight plans to shut the county s 44 children s centres

About 40 people protested outside the Oxfordshire County Council (OCC) offices in New Road as the council announced three options for the future of the centres which each include closing some or all of the centres and Oxfordshire's eight early intervention hubs supporting vulnerable families

OCC are looking to make £8mil lion cuts to its current £16m budget for children s centres and also early intervention service.

Jill Huish from Save Oxfordshire Children s Centre campaign said I m saddened and dismayed All three options for these services and their future fill me with fear Oxfordshire will not take this lying down "

Parents with babies and banners made a stand before before councillors attended a full council meeting the day after the three options were announced

Marston mum of two Ruth Lloyd 37 said "They are a safe place for children and families "

She added "Problems can affect families in any way at any time and these centres are there to help

A consultation is due to launch at the end of September for three months

OCC s preferred option is the closure of all 44 children s centres and early intervention centres to be replaced with eight family and resource centres for vulnerable families only

The second option is also for eight centres but with some services for all families

And option three is for six centres with more money for grants to help volunteers work there

OCC cabinet member for children education and families Melinda Tilley said "Clearly we would rather not be in the position of having to make such significant savings to all of our services

"However this is illustrative of the stark financial challenges councils in England are facing We simply do not have the money we had in 2010

"I know people will have strong opinions about all of the service changes we are having to make We share those sentiments '

The cuts form part of the council's attempts to save £290m across its budget by 2018.

Bid to Whitehall for £4 billion deal

• Oxfordshire City Council leader Ian Hudspeth

By Loughlan Campbell
loughlan@taylornewspapers.co.uk

OXFORDSHIRE'S public bodies have made a bid to government to consider a £4billion investment deal to have greater local control over its funding for health services, transport and skills training.

The six Oxfordshire councils, the Oxfordshire Local Enterprise Partnership and Oxfordshire Clinical Commissioning Group jointly submitted an expression of interest to the Government on Friday.

The bid was backed by both Oxford universities and was submitted in response to calls from the government for local areas to increase economic growth with the government prepared to devolve power and funding to local areas.

Oxfordshire County Council leader Ian Hudspeth said: "By working together, there is an opportunity to take control of more than £3bn of money spent in Oxfordshire so that we can plan and manage growth in the best way.

"Oxfordshire already has a strong economy but if we are to continue to create good jobs and opportunities for future generations we cannot sit and still.

"The county councils committed to working with local partners to shape that future and I am encouraged that we have jointly agreed this expression of interest."

Ideas initially contained four themes which were to develop the county's infrastructure via the roads network, to help residents have the skills for jobs in hi-tech industries, to tackle housing shortages and afford ability.

As well as ensuring health and social care services meet growing demand as the population ages and in response to cuts to funding for public services.

Oxford City Council leader Bob Price said: "Oxford and Oxfordshire has a strong and vibrant local economy but our future success will depend on the investment we need to tackle the chronic housing shortage in the city and our congested roads.

"This expression of interest shows our commitment to delivering a unified and consistent approach to tackling the issues.

"This is only the beginning. We have a lot of work to do to secure the funding and local powers we need to make it happen."

The plans follow the £56m City Deal and the £118m Oxfordshire Growth Deal agreed with the government last year.

The next step in the bid will involve further discussions between Oxfordshire partners and government departments to broker the deal.

Bullfinch prompts investigation into guest houses

AN Oxford City Council committee has approved an investigation into the registration of guest houses following Operation Bullfinch and evidence that guest house were used by the perpetrators to carry out their own crimes.

The council's scrutiny committee approved the investigation by the Guest Houses Review Group, a sub-panel of the committee, at a meeting at Oxford Town Hall on Monday.

Currently, hotels and guest houses are required to keep record of guests and if they have any suspicions to report them to the police.

However, there is no safeguarding link between guest houses and the council.

A cross party panel of four councillors has been assembled and an investigation has been outlined to take place in the coming months.

The review will include contributions from Thames Valley Police, Experience Oxfordshire, Oxfordshire County Council and from guest houses in the city.

Oxford city councillor Van Coulter, chair of the guest houses review group, said: "We were all appalled by what happened and it is our duty to ensure that every avenue is explored to prevent crimes such as that happening again."

Operation Bullfinch saw seven men jailed for 85 years in 2013 for sexually exploiting six girls in Oxford, often in guest houses.

Report calls for hospital discharge improvements

John Radcliffe Hospital in Headington topped statistics on bed blocking in England earlier this year

A NEW report from Healthwatch Oxfordshire into the hospital discharge process in the county has produced an eye-opening critique of the process

The health watchdog produced a survey for the report that involved 212 patients in acute and community hospitals run by Oxford University Hospitals NHS Trust and Oxford Health NHS Foundation Trust, 14 care providers 33 GPs and 44 pharmacists

loughlan.campbell@oxfordmail.co.uk

The report, titled Improving discharges from hospital in Oxfordshire published yesterday revealed that 38 per cent of those who responded to the survey after being discharged described the experience as poor or very poor

The survey carried out between February and March also revealed that only 47 per cent of patients said they had the reason for their discharge explained to them.

It also found that 36 per cent of patients said their medication was not available for them at the time they were ready to be discharged and that just under half of GPs said they got discharge information by the time they needed it less than half the time

Rachel Coney chief executive of Healthwatch Oxfordshire said "We were made aware that the issue with the discharging process in Oxfordshire hospitals was getting worse and we thought that we have the ability to do this job properly and really review the system"

Figures revealed in January this year by NHS England revealed that Oxfordshire's hospitals are among the worst in the county for bed blocking

As a result of the survey Healthwatch Oxfordshire made 14 recommendations for improvement such as redesigning hospital discharge summaries and to appoint a discharge co-ordinator responsible for ensuring communication between the patient and their families in regard to their discharge

Ms Coney added "What is really sad about the results we've collated is that we know hospitals know how to do things but they aren't doing them right despite the intent to do so clearly being present

"Our proposals are pretty simple and they might make a big difference. Ultimately patients need to know what's happening to them"

Tony Sumner co-founder of Patient Voice a patient group based in Cambridgeshire said "We need to hear the stories behind these statistics if we are to truly understand the experiences of those patients"

A statement on behalf of Oxford University Hospitals NHS Trust Oxford Health NHS Foundation Trust Oxfordshire Clinical Commission Group and Oxfordshire County Council said

"We are concerned that aspects of the report's analysis and conclusions are flawed and are disappointed that its recommendations have not been in discussion with us

"We are concerned that the report's findings may raise undue anxiety among patients"

Healthwatch Oxfordshire claim they shared the report with the organisations a month before it was published and when asking them to be specific about their issues with their project declined to provide them with an answer to that question.

Cowley tyre fire being treated as arson by police

A FIRE that engulfed cars and tyres Oxford MOT and Service Centre in Cowley is being treated as arson

About 40 properties had to be evacuated on Saturday morning as 45 firefighters battled the large fire in Marsh Road at around 3 34am.

The firefighters quickly brought the blaze under control but due to the flames s intensity it spread to a nearby office building so residents had to be evacuated from surrounding homes in Cowley Road and Marsh Road as a precaution.

James Williams spokesperson for Thames Valley Police said "Police are investigating a fire in Marsh Road Oxford as arson."

At the fire's peak there were eight fire engines on the scene with residents taken in by the landlord of the Marsh Harrier pub in Marsh Road whilst the fire was being battled

Residents were allowed back in their homes within two hours of being evacuated

The fair began in 1625 390 years ago as a parish celebration of the patron saint St Giles

It became a toy fair in the 18th century before becoming a children's fair in the 19th century and finally a funfair in the late Victorian era.

Today the fair is run by the Showman s Guild of Great Britain in partnership with Oxford City Council

Bicester couple Maureen and Ronald Wise both 70 were enjoying the attractions on Monday evening

Mrs Wise said "I've been coming here since I was born I won t be going on any of the rides though. I m a bit too old for that I think my favourite part is all the games"

Mr Wise added. "I ve heard the Abingdon fair is bigger but this one is definitely better"

St Giles was closed to traffic from Midday on Sunday and reopened on Wednesday morning

Amongst those making the most of the fair was chief fire officer David Etheridge from Oxfordshire County Council Fire and Rescue Service head quarters in Kidlington

He said "It s been a fantastic night. Great weather there s a fantastic atmosphere."

Thousands turn out for Syrian refugees

JUST days after the tragic death of three year old refugee Aylan Kurdi, thousands turned out on the streets of Oxford bearing placards to show solidarity with those fleeing conflict around the world

The Refugees Welcome in Oxford march took place on Sunday and surpassed the expectations of organisers when around 2 000 joined the peaceful demonstration

The event was organised by Oxford-based author and journalist Mark Lynas after images of the young boy's body were splashed across national papers on Wednesday

Mr Lynas said "I've been to some political rallies but I've never seen anything like that.

"We estimate about 2 000 people turned up on the day I set the page up on September 2 and we had about 1 000 people sign up in four days

"A lot of us had just come to the end of our tethers The government has been slow to respond"

Witney MP and Prime Minister David Cameron announced on Monday the UK would now be accepting 20 000 people fleeing conflict in Syria by 2020

Leader of Oxfordshire County Council Ian Hudspeth said at a full council meeting on Tuesday Like everyone else in Oxfordshire, I have been shocked and saddened by the images we have seen of refugees fleeing brutal regimes such as Syria where civil war is raging

"The numbers on the march in Oxford at the weekend surprised even the organisers and shows the strength of feeling and compassion of the people of Oxfordshire

"The county council has been talking to partner agencies to see what we can do together"

The lifeless body of three-year-old Syrian refugee Aylan Kurdi washed up on the shore of a Turkish beach on Wednesday morning.

He and 12 others died after boats carrying refugees capsized while on its way to Europe

Leader of the Oxfordshire County Council Liberal Democrat group Neil Fawcett said the council meeting "Oxfordshire and the UK has a fine tradition of welcoming and helping refugees

"That tradition was reflected by the people of Oxfordshire over the last few weeks"

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes—not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director James Miller feels that it's all about service. "Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window on any type of frame, and with a new 10 year guarantee also it's not just about saving people money although that obviously helps.

Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a complacency perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should it sure as hell doesn't. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole.

Cloudy2Clear service Oxford like from their local depots and I mean as fooking that this approach is a must. Jacks is his success. "The bonus that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.

So if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give James a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Police launch investigation into hidden hotel camera

POLICE have launched an investigation after a 23-year-old woman reported that she had discovered a hidden camera device placed behind a shower vent in the Wheatley Travelodge in London Road.

According to reports a student from Edinburgh was naked in the cubicle in the hotel on August 26 when she discovered the device.

She reported the camera to the hotel and immediately rang the police.

A Travelodge spokesperson said: "We can confirm that on Friday August 28, a customer at our Oxford Wheatley hotel made us aware of the presence of what appeared to be a camera in their room.

"While the camera appeared to be inoperative, we have reported this matter to the police and we are now supporting them fully with their ongoing investigations."

Thames Valley Police spokesperson Anne Tugwell said: "A camera has been recovered for examination.

"We are working closely with Travelodge to secure as much evidence as we can and an investigation is ongoing."

Boy may have drowned after becoming tangled

A FRIEND described seeing Aown Dogar disappear in the River Thames as an inquest heard the schoolboy may have drowned after becoming tangled in plants.

Cheney School pupil Aown, 13, of Fox Crescent in Oxford drowned in the River Thames while playing with friends under Donnington Bridge on June 25 - an inquest into his death heard last Thursday.

Assistant coroner Alison Thompson said she believes it is possible that Aown became tangled in foliage but that there was no way to be sure.

A statement from Aown's friend Riyadh Dewan said: "I tried to grab him as he floated past but I missed his hand by a few inches.

"The last time I saw Aown he was 20 metres from the bridge when his head went under the water. I didn't see Aown again."

Speaking at the inquest into the death at the coroner's court in New Road, Miss Thompson said: "I know the family aren't here but I would like to pass on my deepest sympathies to them.

"It must have been a terrible shock to them and to members of the community as well."

By Alexander Ballinger
alex@taylornewspapers.co.uk

"I am satisfied from all the evidence I have heard that heroic attempts were made to resuscitate him."

Aown was visiting his friend Riyadh Dewan, 12, in Fox Crescent whose house backs on to the river with his brother Naofil and his sister Noor.

While playing in the river Aown came into difficulty and was seen waving his arms in the air.

In his statement, read out at the inquest, Riyadh added: "I got into the water and Aown put his foot in the river and said it was cold. I told him not to be scared."

Riyadh said he noticed Aown waving his arms but thought he was joking, when he realized Aown was drifting with the current.

Aown's sister Noor, who had been filming the boys playing from the riverbank, began screaming and Riyadh attempted to catch Aown as he floated by.

The incident happened just after 7pm and police arrived on the scene at 7.16pm, followed by the fire service shortly after.

• 13 year old Aown Dogar died while playing in the Thames

Fire fighters recovered Aown from the river and he was taken to John Radcliffe Hospital by ambulance but was confirmed dead at 9.05pm.

Miss Thompson ruled Aown's death was accidental.

She said: "We know that he was not a strong swimmer."

"What they were doing was nothing new. It just seems he'd gone further down to the bridge this time."

Wantage school's £5m science block approved

By Alexander Ballinger
alex@taylornewspapers.co.uk

An artists impression of the new science block

WANTAGE S King Alfred s Academy has had its new £5million two storey science block approved by Vale of White Horse District Council.

The science block is part of the academy's plan to consolidate from three sites to two and could be funded by selling off one of its sites

Vale of White Horse District Council planning committee approved the application on September 2

The executive head of the Vale Academy Trust that runs the school, Simon Spiers said: "I'm obviously over the moon. Absolutely delighted. It was an important hurdle we needed to cross

"I was at the meeting and spoke in favour of the application."

The new building is set to consist of 14 laboratories and two food technology classrooms and will have up to 100 square metres of solar panels on the roof

Construction of the building has been approved for the school's centre site in Portway and could be funded by the selling of of its East Site in Springfield Road

The former building of Wantage Church of England Primary School will be demolished to make way for the new block.

Planning committee member and Vale councillor for Wantage and Grove Jenny Hannby said, "Of course we want to support the school

"I think the planning committee were very conscious of the nearness of the houses But the proposal was changed from three-storey to two storey and the building was moved away from the houses."

King Alfred s Academy is currently searching for funding for the new building, and if it is secured the building will be completed in one stage rather than two

Mr Spiers added, "We're working with a number of agencies about the funding

Mr Spiers also said any money made from the sale of the East Site would go towards the refurbishment of the school s other two sites and other work including the science block

Work on the new block is due to begin in 2016 however it is unclear how long it could take

The second incident occurred on August 20 at around 1 10pm in Boots in the Market Place Wallingford where six blood pressure containers worth £800 in total were taken.

On August 24, between 2 05pm and 2 45pm a man was seen putting toothbrushes hair straighteners, deodorant and other electrical toiletries worth approximately between £700 800 into plastic bag.

Finally on August 22 at around 2 55pm in Lloyds Pharmacy in the Market Place, a foot scrubber worth £60 was taken in an incident.

Teams paddle like fury to aid charity

• (Top) Team Footsteps took the crown in the final race and (bottom) 23 teams took part in this year's event

INTREPID paddlers took to the water in dragon boats at Abingdon on Sunday to raise money for charity

The event saw 23 teams compete head to head for the 10th Dragon Boat Day held on the River Thames

With a drummer hammering out the beat on each boat, the 16 strong crews paddled like fury to propel their 40 ft craft over the 250 metre course

Murray Scott of organisers Rotary Club of Abingdon Vesper said: "It gives the Abingdon people something to do on a nice sunny day. I think the atmosphere has been brilliant.

"It's all down to team building. The teams that do this enjoy it and come back year after year."

Dragon boat racing first started as an ancient Chinese tradition over 2,000 years ago.

In this year's event, Team Footsteps, representing the Dorchester-based Footsteps Foundation, proved victorious, with Wittenham Warriors in second place and the Penanches Dragons taking third.

The funds raised by the fun will go to benefit a number of charities including Oxford hospice Helen and Douglas House and Cancer Research UK.

The event was sponsored by medical testers Alere Toxicology, based at Milton Park, who also entered a team.

Team member Sam Cobley said: "We're the Alere Einsteins.

"We didn't do so well last year, we came 14th out of 16. The first race (this year) we beat our best time from last year.

"The atmosphere is really good. It's a real good family day, the sun is shining, there's beer flowing, there's a barbecue going on and everyone's having a really good time."

The free event began at 10am with medals being handed out following the finals at 4pm.

Heading of marketing for Alere, Lindsay Lennen, said: "We are the main sponsors of the event, which we have been for the last three years.

"I think it's a really important event to be involved in given we're a local company and we want to be involved in the community here."

Wantage iron man raises £2,600

A WANTAGE charity champion recently tested his steel and raised over £2 600 for charity

Phil Cox undertook the 13 hour iron man challenge on August 26 in and around the town.

The challenge consisted of a 2 4-mile swim a 112-mile bike ride and a 26 2 mile row and Mr Cox has so far raised £2,626

Mr Cox 43 who works for Oxfordshire County Council in social services said "If you've donated thanks so much for supporting me

"There were a couple of people that turned out to watch me start and there were eight of us who did the full ride with other people joining in along the way" The charity challenge was undertaken in support of Wantage-based charity The 14 Club, which provides a social venue for people with learning difficulties

A traditional iron man consists of a 26 2-mile run hewever Mr Cox opted for a row due to a knee injury

The swim took place at Wantage Leisure Centre the bike ride was laps of Wantage and the row was on a rowing machine at TFD Gym in Grove

£1.2m fine for Hugo Boss after boy's death

• Austen Harrison (photo from INS news agency)

HUGO Boss UK was fined £1 2million on Friday for health and safety breaches that caused the death of a four year-old boy at its Bicester Village store in June 2013

Judge Peter Ross sentenced the company at Oxford Crown Court calling the health and safety failings systematic

Austen Harrison of Crawley in Sussex died after an 18 stone mirror which should have been fixed to the wall, fell on him

By Alexander Ballinger
alex@localnewspapers.co.uk

Austen's mum and dad Irina and Simon Harrison were both in court during the sentencing Judge Ross said "Nothing that anyone in this case can do or say will heal the terrible and lifelong agony caused by their son's death and its impact.

"How far short of the acceptable standard did the defendant fall? A very very long way

"Was there systematic failure? In my view it was"

The designer clothing company was fined for one count of an employer failing to insure the safety of a person other than an employee and one count of contravening health and safety regulations

Judge Ross fined the company £1 1m and £100 000 for the counts respectively as well as ordering them to pay costs of almost £47 000

No compensation order was made because a payment to Austen's family had already been settled

Prosecutor Barry Berlin yesterday said at the court "The mirror had not been fixed to the wall but had negligently been left free standing without any fixings

"While Simon Harrison was trying on the suit, Austen was moving the wings of the mirror

Austen was left with irreparable brain damage and his life support machine was turned off at Oxford's John Radcliffe Hospital four days later

Hugo Boss UK's representative in court Jonathan Laidlaw QC said the company had accepted its health and safety failings

He said "The consequence of this failing is as awful as one could reasonably imagine

Since the day of the accident Hugo Boss has done all it can first to acknowledge those failings to express genuine heartfelt remorse and also demonstrate a determination to put things right and ensure there cannot be a repeat of what went wrong."

Representatives of the company admitted the offences at Banbury Magistrates Court on June 2

'Rebel Without a Clue, the Jester's Tale' by Roger Crawford, tells the story of how Roger became embroiled in the Family Court system in Oxford in a battle to see his only child, and lost, leading him to protest on various roofs and stand for election in 2010 with his trademark Court Jester outfit

WIN tickets to the London Homebuilding & Renovating Show

Homebuilding & Renovating Show
EXCEL LONDON
25–27 SEPTEMBER 2015

COINCIDING with the latest report that the South East of the UK has seen the largest rise in self-builders in 2015 with the numbers increasing YoY by 16 per cent[1] the up and coming London Homebuilding & Renovating Show sponsored by Anglian Home Improvements is set to attract thousands more visitors at its new spacious and contemporary venue, ExCeL London from 25-27 September. The event this year will celebrate the 25th anniversary of Homebuilding & Renovating magazine, the show's media partner and Britain's best-selling self-build publication, by taking its content off the pages and bringing it to life at the event, supported by new experts, exhibitors, seminars and masterclasses.

To commemorate a quarter of a century of publishing for self-builders at the impressive ExCeL exhibition centre, the event will showcase how the property market, architectural and design trends which have shaped the social aspects of the UK families have evolved over this time. In addition, throughout the three-day event, people who are still unsure how to undertake a project efficiently from inception to fruition will have access to expert guidance and tailored advice at 15-minute consultations, in-depth seminars and masterclasses hosted by the UK's leading property experts and companies. The show's new location, ExCeL London, will see more exhibitors than ever before, with over 350 companies displaying the latest products and services in the market place.

Standard tickets are £12 in advance or £18 on the door (children under 16 go free). For further information visit www.homebuildingshow.co.uk/London or call the ticket hotline on 0871 231 3324 (calls cost 10p per minute plus network extras).

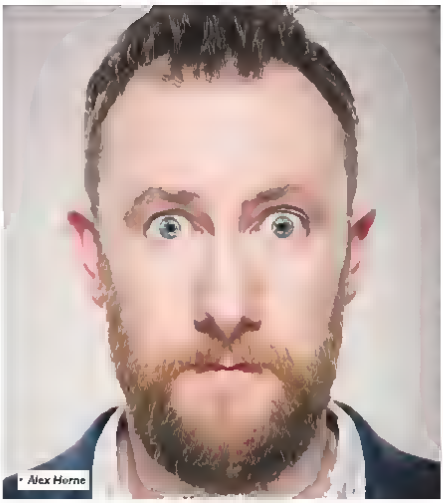
Horne humour hits town



Alex Horne

MUSICAL comedian Alex Horne will be bringing his trusty Horne Section band to Cornerstone Arts Centre in Didcot on Thursday, September 24, as part of his 'Monsieur Butterfly' tour.

The 37 year old, who has made a number of television appearances with his group is known for creating songs with his five piece jazz band that have an element of randomness for comedic effect, with some of them having no real meaning behind them.

But despite the unique mix of comedy and music within their material, Alex revealed that it has not always been plain sailing.

"I don't think anyone took us seriously enough to offer advice to us but we were generally encouraged by people from the start," he said.

"Live music has an effect on audiences that comedy rarely can, so I think people have embraced the idea of putting properly talented musicians at the forefront of a comedy show.

"And if I had to describe myself as a musician or comedian, it will absolutely be the latter.

"At the start I was unmusical while the band were unfunny. Unfortunately they're now occasionally hilarious while I remain tone deaf."

Alex's comedy career began 15 years ago when he made his Edinburgh Fringe debut with his show 'How to Avoid Huge Ships' which received positive reviews from critics.

He has since returned to the festival a number of times and in 2004 he won a Chortle Award for 'Best Breakthrough Act' which then opened the door to a wide range of endeavours.

In 2007, he and fellow comedian Owen Powell went on a quest to find a person from every nationality living in London from the 192 UN countries, eventually managing to track down 169 of them.

Book deals, slots on prime television shows and the chance to have his own show on Radio 4 with the Horne Section, which sees him and his five piece jazz band combine comedy, improvisation, storytelling and music, have put the comic in dreamland.

"It's genuinely fun," he said. "Touring involves a lot of driving, lifting, eating bad food and saying goodbye to your family.

"The hours spent on stage in front of a good audience are what make it worthwhile. That and the money.

"And I am very excited to be back in Didcot."

Suitable for over 12s, the show starts at 8pm and tickets cost £16.

Nina set for a city debut

A COMEDY show with a difference will be setting audience members chuckling on Saturday when award-winning ventriloquist and comedienne Nina Conti takes to the stage of the Oxford Playhouse

By James Richings

The 41 year old entertainer, known for her use of audience interaction and puppetry, has performed at some of biggest comedy venues such as Live at the Apollo at the Hammersmith theatre.

But it's her current 'In Your Face' tour that she is relishing currently as she gears up for her first visit to the city's Beaumont Street theatre.

Nina's rise to fame during the 2000s has seen her become one of the most popular and successful ventriloquist acts of recent years.

She told the Guardian, "I got into it around 12 years ago after having been an actress at the RSC and it was initially my pendulum swinging against what I perceived to be a po-faced theatre establishment."

She added "I thought ventriloquism would amuse me for the summer of 2003 - not build the house I live in and support the family I now have thanks to a life in comedy."

In her show, Nina uses two puppets - a monkey called Monk who constantly insults her - and elderly Scotswoman Granny who talks about her dead husband Frank.

But it's the use of half a facemask on unsuspecting audience members manipulated via a handpiece held by Nina that she is now best known for as it leads her 'victims' into awkward situations.

Nina said: "And everyone can expect the unexpected because each show is spontaneously concocted according to who I meet in the first few minutes from the audience.

"It's bonkers, wonky and not the most cerebral show of my repertoire but without doubt it has produced the biggest belly laughs."

Tickets cost from £17.50 to £19.50 with the show starting 7.30pm. It is suitable for over-16s.

New group to play Witney pub

NEW band Russ Payne and the Unson Bends will be getting toes tapping at the New Inn pub in Witney this Saturday, September 12

By James Richings

Created by local musician Russ, a former member of The Shark Denists group the band consists of himself as lead vocalist and guitarist Bill Keller on bass and Nigel Summerly on drums and blues harp

As well as performing original tracks off Russ' debut album 'In Love with Trouble' which was released two years ago the group will also be covering some of the most recognisable rock and blues tracks of all time

"We cover all the normal bases of Hendrix and Cream but also play original tracks from our album, 'In Love with Trouble' along with tracks from our new album," Russ told the Guardian

"We are a classic trio although sometimes we add sax and keys with a fourth member (Yosi Marshall)

'In fact last time we played the New Inn it was as a four piece but this time it's just the three of us"

The band members have a hectic autumn schedule ahead of them which will see them perform in across Oxfordshire, including gigs in pubs and bars in Abingdon Stevanton and Witney as well as in London

However despite performing at venues in Oxfordshire and further afield the three friends have to balance their day jobs with their musical endeavours with Russ working as a guitar teacher in schools and owning a guitar tuition business called Go Guitar bassist Bill as a lecturer and Nigel in journalism.

But having to turn up for work during the week does not stop them from entertaining hundreds of people across the country, who appreciates their live music

"As a guitar teacher I would say it's vital for youngsters to experience live music" Russ said.

"You cannot replace the visceral thrill of a live drum kit and guitar directly into an amp and at a venue like the New Inn you can get really close and see how the whole band thing works

"You can't get that if you go to see a stadium act.

"Also so much happens on screens these days that it's so important for youngsters to actually feel the kick of the bass drum and experience musicians actually at work."

The free gig at the New Inn starts at 9.30pm and lasts until midnight

- Musician Russ Payne

Car company's state-of-the-art Full Link system puts range of phone apps safely at the driver's fingertips

Seat closes gap in connectivity

SEAT is undertaking an ambitious plan to prioritise in car connectivity across all its models by linking the gap between the smartphone and infotainment system, so that the driver is always connected

By James Richings

Several new models such as the Alhambra, Leon MY16 and Toledo MY16 will be available with Full Link, which is Seat's state-of-the-art, three-in one connectivity solution.

With Apple Car Play for the iPhone user and Android Auto or Mirror Link for Android devices the solution is a first in the global car market and not only removes fears about current and future compatibility but also allows users to access many of their phone functions and apps while on the move

• The Seat Ibiza's in-car connectivity

The new Ibiza launched at the Barcelona Motor Show in May is the first model to benefit from the advanced technology which sees Seat take a giant leap forward in the race to eradicate compromise from connectivity

With Full Link designed in-house by Seat engineers the full roster of smartphones running the latest iOS and Android software will connect without hassle

The software puts the phone's features at the driver's fingertips

Essential functions such as satellite navigation from certified apps and Google Maps can now be used safely via the car's touchscreen

Apps which have been classified as safe are being added regularly and they include music service Spotify

Temptation to use a handheld device is eradicated as drivers will benefit from the system's read out function, which delivers messages such as emails tweets Facebook posts news and social media streams audibly ensuring productivity during long journeys without compromising safety

Drivers can also use its simple 'voice to reply' function as well as gesture control which allows commuters to perform actions such as messaging or phone calls with a simple finger swipe across the car's infotainment screen, without taking eyes off the road

Seat's head of fleet and business sales Peter McDonald said "Seat is striving and achieving excellence in several areas that our customers consider to be vital. "Full Link is a demonstration in how to seamlessly integrate and take full advantage of smartphone features whether you're tech savvy or not

"Any driver will undoubtedly benefit in terms of safety and minimising time lost, not to mention improved vehicle maintenance and driver behaviour"

'No bad blood' over striker's move to city

By Loughlan Campbell
loughlan@taylornewspapers.co.uk

DIDCOT Town joint manager Ian Concannon has said the club could not stand in the way of striker Conor McDonagh's move to Oxford City.

The forward signed for Didcot back in June but it was announced last week that after three months at The Diddy he would be moving on to City where he previously played for the Nomads side.

It was also revealed Ian favourite full-back Sam Elkins is in the process of completing a transfer to league rivals North Leigh who, currently top the table.

Concannon said of McDonagh's departure: "I was a little bit surprised when we found out City had made the approach but we couldn't stand in his way. City play in a higher division and it will give him the chance to play some quality football.

"It will give him the chance to truly test himself. Of course we did not want him to go, but if he ever wants to return then the door is always open to him."

But Concannon declined to comment on the departure of Elkins who has been at the club since 2011 and has previously had a spell with the Millers.

To replace McDonagh, The Diddy brought in former Chippenham Town striker Mark Francis who started his career at Swindon Town and went straight into the side for Didcot's 0-0 draw with Slimbridge on Saturday.

Francis drew a blank for the squad on his debut but Concannon believes the goals will start flowing once he is match fit.

He added: "I brought Mark in after having a great chat on the phone with him after I heard he wasn't getting much game time at Chippenham Town.

"He's not match fit at the moment but once he's there he will be great to watch and I'm hoping we can get some goals out of him."

Didcot are set to face VCD Athletic in Crayford, London this weekend but are riddled with injuries with seven players in doubt for the game and Luke Carnell suspended.

Jimmy Deahill, Mark Janes, Andy Ballard, Jamie Heapy, Lance Williams, Matt Woodley and Jack Selt could be unavailable though Janes and Ballard's injuries are just slight knocks and could feature in the game.

Plato keeps title fight alive at Rockingham

A THRILLING final third race saw Jason Plato deny Tom Ingram a maiden victory in the British Touring Car Championship victory at Rockingham last weekend.

The win was the Oxford racer's 53rd win overall that involved a race-long battle with Ingram and title rival Colin Turkington.

Plato and Ingram were neck and neck throughout the final race with Plato only taking hold of the race with three laps to go whilst Ingram claimed his first BTCC podium in second place.

The championship leader was involved in an accident in the opening lap of the week and's first race resulting in a 27th place finish before grabbing himself a seventh place finish in the second race.

Plato who had led the championship before the weekend now lies in second on 280 points just six off his career rival Gordon Shedden in first place with just two race weekends left to go.

The 47-year old tweeted after the weekend's racing: "What a day of ups and downs, can't wait til Silverstone, the fightback has begun.'

Saints star for Team GB trials

OXFORD Saints star running back James Walter has been invited to attend the GB National Team Trials in Sheffield following a stunning season.

Walter will be vying with many other hopefuls to earn his spot on the final roster after scoring 14 touchdowns and gaining 1,103 yards from 148 carries in just eight games.

His record at passes on the field is also exemplary for his position with Walter hauling 20 passes for an additional 186 yards and three touchdowns as he led the team in overall carries, receptions, yards gained and touchdown over the whole season.

James joined the saints when he came to study at Oxford Brookes University in 2012 and has proved to be a valuable addition to the team.

Saints linebacker Graeme Taylor said of Walter: "I've played this sport for 10 years with players from all over America and Europe...and I can honestly say that James is one of the best players I've ever had the fortune of playing alongside.

"To gain over 1,000 rushing yards in an eight game season is unbelievable and I know he will do him self and the Oxford Saints proud."

The trials will take place on the weekends of September 19/20 and October 17/18 and if selected Walter will be able to compete for Team GB in matches across Europe.

Double DNF despair as Lotus' race ends early

• Romain Grosjean (front) having been hit by the Sauber of Felipe Nasr (car nine behind) seconds earlier (picture courtesy of Lotus F1)

LOTUS F1's hopes of a repeat performance of their strong showing in Belgium last month were quickly ended as both drivers were involved in collisions on the first lap of the Italian Grand Prix on Sunday.

Romain Grosjean and Pastor Maldonado had started eighth and 16th respectively and were in the middle of the pack as they went into the first chicane.

But a domino effect of collisions was triggered by Felipe Nasr's Sauber hitting Grosjean, who then knocked Nico Hulkenberg's Force India into the side of Maldonado.

adam.flinn@oxfordmailnewspapers.co.uk

While Nasr and Hulkenberg were both able to continue, the two Lotus cars suffered damage and had to retire.

"It's been a tough weekend and this is racing sometimes," said Maldonado.

"I had contact in turn one where the Force India came into the side of me and took out my front right suspension, and that was the end of my race.

"We were looking for a strong finish and had potential for that but we keep pushing as there are still seven grands prix to go so time to recover and keep fighting."

Grosjean did manage to complete a lap, but pulled off the track at the start of lap two after his car was too badly damaged to carry on.

It comes after he earned his best result in almost two years at the previous race in Belgium on August 23 where he came home third.

He said: "I made a strong start but got hit by a car from behind in turn one which broke my rear suspension so that was it for us.

"It was a too optimistic move from Nasr who bit me.

"It's been a tough weekend but everyone has made the most of the opportunities we have and the spirit of the team and the support from the F1 world has been amazing."

Grosjean is ninth in the drivers' championship standings with 38 points while Maldonado is 14th with 12 points.

The next race takes place in Singapore on September 20, where Lotus will hope to know more about Renault's speculated takeover of the financially troubled Enstone-based team.

Blues back to winning ways over Stags

OXFORD RL completed a hat trick of wins over the Hemel Stags this season as the Blues went tenth in the table in a 38-16 win.

The Blues took the lead when Hemel had to defend against immense pressure and Kyle Dannis went over.

They had their second try of the day shortly afterwards with Nathan Kitson kicking true with one of his two occasions.

Josh Nathaniel was then able to add a third try to the Oxford scoreline with Kitson back on target for the conversion.

Oxford simply dominated the game as it wore on but Hemel did break away with a try after Liam O'Callaghan touched down for the home side.

Luke Evans added another for Oxford shortly before the break although Hemel came storming out of the blocks in the second half with Ashley Fyson going over and then Thibault Cousinie went under the sticks.

This woke Oxford up who rounded off the scoring through tries from Andy Speake, Louis Richards and then another try from Craig Cook with Kitson converting two out of the three attempts.

Freds undone by tricky Taunton test

WANTAGE Town fell to three successive defeats as they were outplayed by promotion chasers Taunton Town at Alfredian Park on Saturday.

The Freds were dealt an early blow with two minutes on the clock after Jamie Short scored for the visitors.

The Peacocks then doubled their advantage shortly after Josh Klein-Davies collected a long ball skipped round the defence before firing past Wantage keeper Edward Cavanagh.

The second half proved to be very competitive with the sides getting rough with each other and Wantage won themselves a penalty on the hour mark after Nick Thorne was brought down in the box.

Ben Whitehead stepped up to take the penalty and he fired the ball into the bottom right hand corner with the keeper going completely the wrong way and the game teetered not for a Wantage defeat but we keep pushing as there are still seven grands prix to go so time to recover and keep fighting.'

Grosjean did manage to complete a lap, but pulled off the track at the start of lap two after his car was too badly damaged to carry on.

It comes after he earned his best result in almost two years at the previous race in Belgium on August 23 where he came home third.

Grosjean is ninth in the drivers' championship standings with 38 points while Maldonado is 14th with 12 points.

Comeback draw for Oxon

DARTS Oxfordshire won their last six matches to avoid an opening defeat in their British Inter Counties Championship Division 1 opener against County Durham.

Oxfordshire's wins came from Lee Russell, Glenn West, Adam Bowman, Geordie Grant and Andy Thomas as they secured an 18-18 draw.

They had looked certain to be heading for a defeat after falling 16-12 behind early on.

A speedy departure

ICE HOCKEY: Oxford City Stars were left shocked last week after their new import signing Andrew Bates moved back to the USA two days after arriving in the UK last Friday.

Reports state that Bates' decision was due to him not being able to maximise his career potential in Oxford.

The club is already looking at a number of other possible import players to replace him.

New presidents

ROWING: Morgan Gerik and Maddy Badcoll have been announced as presidents for the 2015-16 BNY Mellon Boat Race season respectively for Oxford University Rowing Club's men's and women's teams.

Gerlak won the Isis Goldie Reserve Boat Race this year and claimed an U23 World Championship Bronze medal in the USA coxless four in 2013.

Badcott is going into her final year of studying English at Wadham College and tasted victory in this year's Women's Boat Race.

City stay fourth in rugged goalless draw to Whitehawk

• Oxford City's Luke Coulson in action against Whitehawk FC (Picture by Michael Allen)

OXFORD City kept hold of their fourth-place position in the National League South after being held to a goalless draw at Marsh Lane by Whitehawk on Saturday.

Despite a high standard of football on the pitch both goalkeepers pulled off some acrobatic saves to keep the score even.

City fashioned the first chance when Vinny Mukendi's shot was scrambled away by the Whitehawk defence before teammate Dmari Sterling-James went close.

Luke Coulson played the quarterback role for City sitting tight and delivering in ball after ball but his forwards could not find the back of the net.

City captain Alejandro Adrian Santiago then had his nose broken from a loose elbow from a Whitehawk player just before the half time whistle.

Sergio Torres began to pull the strings for Whitehawk just after the break but Oxford's Laurie Walker was on hand to pull off save after save.

Coulson kept possession well for Oxford and on the 85th minute City were handed a free kick 24 yards out but Ander Del Alamo's effort was just wide of the goal.

The result ends a run of two consecutive defeats with City hoping to get their campaign back on a winning track at Concord Rangers on Saturday.

Grove make fighting start in season opener

GROVE bamboozled the Oxford Harlequins as they opened their South West One East campaign with a 39-12 bonus point win at Cane Lane on Saturday.

The South Oxfordshire side dominated the visitors with fly half Mike Martin kicking 12 points on his debut.

Two Martin penalties gave Grove a 6-0 lead after 16 minutes before the game became a bit of a stop-start affair.

Quins fly half Huw Diamond tried his best to punish the opposition but he was not able to make a dent in the Grove defence.

It took until the 38th minute for the visitors to get off the mark when Tom Tierney trundled ran in from his own 22 metre line.

Grove then added 9-5 on the stroke of half time with Martin slotting a penalty home.

The second half saw Grove score five tries with Tom Clipsham starting them off after he dived over in the corner, which was quickly followed up by Cash Chilvers finding a gap in the defence.

Axel Poulet gave the visitors hope as he touched down after latching on to a loose ball but Grove went on to finish Oxford off with Clipsham crossing for his second and then Simon Cramp touched down on 80 minutes.

ROOFE THE MAN TO LEAD UNITED?

ANALYSIS Can Kemar Roofe inspire Oxford United to promotion this season?

One thing that's sure is Oxford have got a real player on their hands in the 22-year old attacking midfielder

The Walsall born player came through West Brownwich Albion's prestigious academy signing his first professional contract with the club in January 2012

His early career saw him shipped off to Northampton Town and Cheltenham Town where he never truly was given a chance to make an impact.

He joined Colchester United last season but only made two appearances before Michael Appleton picked him up in a three-month loan deal in February this year

From the off United fans knew they had a player of serious calibre who hadn't been seen in Oxford since the days of Joey Beauchamp in the 90s

His control on the ball and the elegance with which he glides past players and links with fan favourite Danny Hylton has seen United's attack re-energized this year

Roofe has also displayed a penchant for the spectacular with some pile-drivers from outside the box seen last season in the 1-0 away win at Newport County the 40-yard stunner against Brentford in the Carling Cup last month and his stunning curler against Bristol Rovers last week.

It was a no brainer for Appleton to bring him in and ever since his move in June United fans have not stopped singing their new hero's name

A fan remarked how Roofe is the player that can 'conjure something from nothing' can bring the pace up and puff United that late spark when it seems like the game's fading out.

While these may be exciting days for Oxford, as alongside Roofe the emergence of 20 year old winger Callum O'Dowda has certainly got fans hearts racing there must be a hint of caution as the question mark will remain on whether Appleton can keep hold of his star player

With the loan window now open and the January transfer window a looming spectre in the distance there ever remains the possibility that a higher team could steal him away

However one thing's for certain, if Roofe can stay fit and can maintain his wonder form then fan's dreams in their heads may turn to reality on the pitch come next summer
